We are working on emotional stimulation called, "one little smile"! And guess who got an "A"!

Frontal Lobe Activity

Baby Talk

We will gather two babies and demonstrate how to talk on the phone. We will encourage the infants to talk to each other.

This activity encourages infants to explore their interests in others and learn about social behavior and social interaction.

Favorite Activities

1. Me and My Family: We will be working with individual babies and we will show family pictures and we will observe babies' facial expressions and body movements when recognizing family members.
2. All Here Together: We will sit the infants on the floor and read a book with excitement. When Finished, we will give each infant a book and help them turn the pages and look at the illustrations.
3. Light as a Feather: We will rub babies arms, palms and hands and talk about feathers and what it feels like on their skin and observe the responses to texture.
4. Mary and Her Lamb: We will show the toy lamb and talk about its soft texture and encourage the children to explore the lamb. We will sing, "Mary Had a Little Lamb" while moving the lamb around as we sing.

Learning at Home
