CURRICULUM CORNER

We are very excited to introduce our brain waves curriculum into our classrooms for the month of December. Our Brain Waves curriculum consists of four different activities for the month that challenge the four areas of the brain (Occipital Lobe, Temporal Lobe, Frontal Lobe and Parietal Lobe). At Kids R Kids, we use strategies from our Brain Waves curriculum to support neural pathways for language, social-emotional, cognitive and physical development during these critical years. Watch for highlights on these curriculum activities in your child's daily activity reports and posted throughout the classroom.
