

Ms. Bonnie Doczy Owner

Development for the Marketplace at Settlers Walk included a high-end childcare facility. While working as a consultant for Ron Coffman, Ed Doczy found Kids 'R' Kids in Atlanta, GA. Their owners so impressed him with not only their building design but with their philosophy of childcare and that all franchises were owner-operated that he not only proposed for Kids 'R' Kids to be the upscale childcare of choice but that he himself, along with his wife Bonnie, would obtain the franchise and bring the center to Springboro. The rest is history. In the past 20 years Kids 'R' Kids has had the good fortune to have had many dedicated and caring staff under its roof, but it has been the support of families who have made us what we are today. With Ed's untimely passing in 2015, Bonnie has kept his vision alive along with her daughter and son-in-law, Samantha and Ben Blizzard. Every week brings new challenges and new promises. Bonnie looks to retire in the near future and plans to play a small role in day-to-day operations to keep her busy. She often babysits for granddaughter Charlotte, who watches to ensure she does Baby Shark correctly. Otherwise, she is kept busy with her three cats, classics book group, doing the NYT Sunday crosswords, and evil Sudokus.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben & Sam Blizzard Co-Owners

Samantha was alongside her parents, Bonnie and Ed Doczy, as they built and opened Kids 'R' Kids Learning Academy in 2002. Samantha was very young at the time her parents opened the center but as she grew older, she spent time working in the center as a teacher and assisting her parents before she moved to Columbus.

Ben and Samantha have spent most of their lives in Springboro, both grew up here and graduated from Springboro schools. They met in high school, but ended up in different cities for college, Columbus and Cincinnati. In 2013, Samantha moved to Cincinnati where she worked in management positions for property leasing while Ben took a management position with a Kentucky distribution company. When Ed Doczy passed away in 2015, they both made the decision to return to Springboro and assist Bonnie with Kids 'R' Kids.

Ben and Sam married in 2017 and a year later brought a beautiful little girl named Charlotte into the world. They love watching their daughter learn and grow at Kids 'R' Kids and look forward to what the future holds!

Proud to be part of the foundation built by Ed and Bonnie Doczy, who both believed that the success of Kids 'R' Kids Springboro was as a family owned and operated business, Samantha and Ben share the same commitment in being owners who are accessible to staff and families and leading our center in early education. While Bonnie Doczy remains involved in financial and operational oversight, Samantha and Ben are committed to keeping Kids 'R' Kids Springboro as the community center that is ever progressing where every child can learn, grow, and be respected for who they are.
